

October 27, 1926.

Mrs. Wahler refused to make a statement.

I went to her house with Miss Harkins, prepared to take her statement stenographically. Her husband was present and joined in her refusal. She said that she is unwilling to testify, and understands that she cannot be compelled to.

She repeated her story to Miss Harkins and me substantially as before, to the following effect:

That she and Erling went riding in his car on the evening of September 14, 1922, and left her home, near Hamilton Street, in Somerset County, at about 8.30 P. M. They drove along Hamilton Street to De Russey's Lane, through De Russey's Lane to Easton Avenue, and along Easton Avenue to Bound Brook, and returned by the same route at about midnight or later. They did not stop in the lane. She did not see Mrs. Gibson, or any other person riding a mule.
